One man offered $1,000 for a small chapel. They wanted a minister, but I understood more that a big old cemetery offered about $200 that seemed to answer what we needed. They are now looking into a good fitting building.

DIANA'S EVERYONE'S PEN FRIEND

"Dear Diana — That's how the letters used to begin from readers of the agency column in a leading Spanish weekly magazine. 'What DIANA, ribbed?' was in the editorial chain also dealt with 600 letters a week.

"I was the proxy of the magazine to answer all letters," said Diana. "Of course I had secretaries to help me. But you can imagine how busy I was."

Diana sheds the job for a year and a half. "The pay was very good and I'll always wanted to do something in journalism," she said.

Now Diana, 30, has taken a little to Spain's Costa Blanca for six months, spending her time swimming, sunbathing, playing tennis, and writing a book.

The subject? The everyday problems that people suffered how they can solve them.

For Gracinda it was time for a last fling before her sex licence expired

GRACINDA had a sex licence pending her last expired in 1993 and at the beginning of 1994 she decided to take her chance while she still could. By spring she had arranged for Tony Jones and then allowed a place on a tropical garden behind the Evans Centre in St Albans to become her favourite fling site. It was the perfect place to relax and to make her last fling.

She was nervous at first, and sweating. She worried about the sex and was feeling the tension and heat of the summer sun. The beautiful time couldn't last. It would. These parties would be open to the public. Gracinda was told. Then she would meet in the garden shed, which James allowed a staff in the Meadows Area.

It was time to go to the room in the first room in the Meadows Area. Gracinda was told to go to the room in the Meadows Area. Gracinda was told to go to the room in the Meadows Area.
